At the scene of the wreck on the New York Central Railroad, at Amherst, Ohio, it was declared by General Superintendent A. S. Ingalls of the road that from preliminary inquiry it seemed Engineer Hess passed a stop signal which, had it been heeded, would have prevented his section from crashing into the section ahead. Hess says he saw no signals. The above picture shows how the Twentieth Century Limited, running on another track, crashed into the wreckage caused by the jamming of the second section of the Pittsburgh-Chicago train into the first section of the same train.

WALLACE DEPOSED BY DEMOCRATS IN CONVENTION

Salt Lake, April 6.—Democrats of Utah, in convention here, yesterday elected James H. Moyle of Salt Lake as Democratic national committeeman for Utah, in place of William R. Wallace. They also elected sixteen delegates to the national convention in St. Louis and adopted resolutions in favor of President Wilson and his policies and declaring for nation-wide and state-wide prohibition. In this part of the resolutions the Republican party in Utah was scored for alleged failure to make this state "dry."

Interest in the election of the national committeeman overtopped all the other business of the convention. Mr. Wallace was a candidate to succeed himself. Opposition to Mr. Wallace and his administration of the honorary post of national committeeman developed, the opposition bringing out Mr. Moyle as its candidate several weeks ago.

Although the Moyle forces had claimed since the primaries that Wallace was beaten, the full flower of the Wallace opposition did not bloom until yesterday's convention. Fiery speeches, one or two of them touched with acrimony, were made on the floor of the convention, for and against both Wallace and Moyle. The opposition shouted that Wallace had destroyed harmony in the party. The Wallace men shouted back that the Democrats were ungrateful for good and faithful service.

Made it Unanimous. Only a motion to declare nominations for committeeman closed stopped the debate. Then the convention balloted. There were just two nominees—Moyle and Wallace—and before the roll call of the counties had been completed on the first ballot it became apparent that Moyle had beaten Wallace about two to one. Without waiting for the count to be announced, Mr. Wallace conceded his defeat by a motion to make the election of Mr. Moyle unanimous. The count showed 378 votes for Moyle and 187 for Wallace.

"I guess it is proven that I'm a pretty poor politician," said Mr. Wallace "so we had better make the vote for Mr. Moyle unanimous." The convention acted on this suggestion.

This and the election of the sixteen delegates to St. Louis took place late in the afternoon session. It was a long convention, remaining in session until 8 o'clock last night. A contest over the seating of two sets of delegates from district No. 81, in Bingham, and debate over the proposal of the committee on organization and order of business to elect a new Democratic state committee in the convention prolonged the session. This last proposal was rejected, and the state committee will be chosen later.

Of the delegation to the St. Louis convention, two are women—Mrs. H. J. Hayward and Mrs. Brigham T. Pyper, both of Salt Lake. In view of the number of aspirants, the convention decided upon a delegation of sixteen. Utah is entitled to eight votes in the national convention, so each delegate will have half a vote.

St. Louis Delegates. The sixteen delegates are the following: Mrs. Hayward, Mrs. Pyper, J. Will Knight of Utah county, Stephen Hallstone of Cache, James R. Barnes of Davis, S. S. Smith of Weber, James W. Clyde of Wasatch, Samuel A. King of Salt Lake, all delegates at large; W. L. Eddy of Boxelder, Valentine Gideon of Weber, Walter W. McKirhan of Sanpete and H. G. Hayball of Cache, delegates from the first congressional district; I. H. Masters of Utah county, Daniel B. Shields of Salt Lake, A. J. Weber of Salt Lake and James H. Wolfe of Salt Lake, delegates from the second congressional district.

The first eight delegates were elected by the convention as a whole and afterward the convention resolved itself into two congressional district conventions to name the rest.

TOO WEAK TO FIGHT

The "Come-Back" man was really never down-and-out. ## CHARLES M. COLE DIES SUDDENLY

Charles Martin Cole, a pioneer of Ogden, died yesterday evening at the family residence, 240 Twenty-sixth street, of apoplexy. His death was unexpected, as he had not been seriously ill. Three years ago, the deceased suffered a paralytic stroke, the effects of which he felt at different times since.

Mr. Cole was born May 18, 1842, in England, the son of Martin and Elizabeth Tanser Cole, and came to Utah in 1852 with his parents, the family being Mormon converts. They settled in Ogden and Mr. Cole resided in this city continuously since that time. He was a carpenter by trade and was widely known in the community. In the Mormon church, the deceased held the office of a high priest and had always been active in the discharge of his religious obligations.

He was married to Martha Sanford in Salt Lake, December 20, 1864, and she, with the following children, survives him: Mrs. Martha Nicholas, Otis A. Cole, Charles R. Cole, Mrs. Mary E. Stephens and Mrs. Julia Crittenden of Ogden; Mrs. Rose Sabine, Alamosa, Colo.; William B. Cole, Rupert, Ida.; Samuel P. Cole, Evanston, Wyo., and Leonard B. Cole, Rexburg, Ida. Twenty-eight grandchildren, fourteen great-grandchildren and the following sisters and brother also survive: Mrs. Martha Lloyd, Mrs. Rose McFarland, Mrs. Sarah Belp and Mrs. Julia Burrup of Ogden, and George Hellewell, Heyburn, Ida.

The funeral announcements will be made later.

INOCULATION WILL BE AFFORDED FREE

Salt Lake, April 6.—Volunteers for the citizens' military training camp will be inoculated with the army serum for the prevention of typhoid if they so elect, according to information received by Captain William B. Wallace, inspector-instructor of the national guard. Captain Wallace said that candidates for the camp could be inoculated at any time at Fort Douglas. All that is necessary is an order from Captain Wallace.

Although the inoculation with the anti-typhoid serum is compulsory with recruits for the regular army, it will not be with those who volunteer for the training camp. However, Captain Wallace said that inoculation would be recommended, for the simple reason that it was an excellent thing and should be desirable for many.

"The effect of the inoculation is very slight," said Captain Wallace. "Some people, of course, are slightly nauseated by the operation, but the feeling only lasts a few hours. It is likely, I think, that a good many volunteers will take advantage of the opportunity."

RUSSIANS HAVE MADE PROGRESS

Advancing Rapidly in the County Beyond Erzerum—German Attacks Near Riga.

Petrograd, via London, April 5, 9:49 p. m.—Although there has been no recent official news concerning the developments on the Caucasus front, it has been learned from private sources that the Russian armies beyond Erzerum and in Persia are progressing swiftly and that the Turkish forces are offering only occasional resistance.

It is evident that the Russian forces, advancing through Persia to the Mesopotamia frontier, have not yet met the main Turkish army. These, consisting of the Bagdad division and reinforcements sent southward after the fall of Bitlis and Mush, are reported to be assembling in the Hankin pass, and when the Russians reach this point they will be confronted no longer by mountain bands and remnants of broken and demoralized divisions, but with the full strength of the organized Turkish army.

Therefore, although an ultimate junction with the British forces is not doubted here, it is not supposed that this consummation of the Russian plans will be easily reached. The German forces have passed quickly to a general offensive along the entire northern front in Russia, their attacks reaching the highest intensity in the Riga region, where the preliminary skirmishes have developed into a steady assault, supported by heavy artillery. The Germans, however, have been unable to gain territory by frontal attack against the strong Russian positions, and are now attempting to flank the Riga positions from the southeast.

From the other points on the front there is little to report except a continuation of mining operations and aeroplane warfare.

ZEPPELINS AGAIN OVER ENGLAND

London, April 6, 3 a. m.—A Zeppelin attacked the northeast coast of England about 5:50 o'clock Wednesday night but was driven off by the anti-aircraft defenses. The official announcement says that some bombs were dropped, but there is no information yet as to the casualties or damage.

ARMOR PLATE BILL FAVORED

Washington, April 5.—The senate bill for a government armor plate plant was favorably reported today by the house naval committee by a vote of 15 to 6.

Chairman Padgett predicted its easy passage in the house and that the government armor plate plant would be in operation within two years. The vote followed: Ayes—Padgett, Talbot, Estopinal, Rioridan, Tribble, Hensley, Buchanan of Illinois; Gray, Callaway, Hart, Connely, Oliver, Liebel, Democrats; and Britten and Stephens, Republicans. Nays—Butler, Roberts, Browning, Farr, Kelley and Mudd, Republicans. All efforts to amend this bill failed.

ROOSEVELT MAY BE CANDIDATE

If Nominated He Would Not Pussyfoot on Any Issue—Demands Allegiance to United States.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., April 5.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has flung his hat into the ring. Without specifically declaring his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination, the Colonel, in a sharp declaration of principle, announces the terms upon which he will accept that nomination. A candidate for congress in a near-by state, who also expects to attend the Chicago convention as a delegate, called at Sagamore Hill today. Several other guests were present in the famous trophy room. In the presence of these the caller, after a general discussion of the convention outlook, said:

"You know, colonel, I may make up my mind that we will have to nominate you."

What reply was expected is purely conjectural. There have been several attempts recently to smoke the colonel out. There was silence for an instant and then, his eyes snapping and his jaws hard set, Colonel Roosevelt in crackling sentences stated his terms.

Roosevelt's Reply. Colonel Roosevelt replied substantially as follows:

"Well, now, let me give you a piece of advice. If you have any doubt up on the subject do not nominate me. Get it perfectly clear in your head, if you nominate me it must not be because you think it is in your interest and the interest of the Republican party because you think it is in the interest of the United States to do so."

"And, more than that, don't you do it if you expect me to 'pussyfoot' on any single issue I have raised. Don't be for me unless you are prepared to say that every citizen of this country has got to be pro-United States first, last and all the time and no 'pro' anything else at all; and that we stand for every good American everywhere, whatever his birthplace or creed and wherever he lives; and that in return we demand that he be an American and nothing else, with no hyphen about him."

No Divided Loyalty.

"Every American citizen must be for America first and for no other country even second, and he hasn't any right to be in the United States at all if he has any divided loyalty between this country and any other."

"I don't care a rap for the man's creed or birthplace or original nationality as long as he is straight United States. I am for him if he is straight United States, and if he isn't I am against him. And don't you nominate me unless you are prepared to take the position that Uncle Sam is to be strong enough to defend his rights and to defend every one of his people wherever those people are, and he can't be strong enough unless he prepares in advance."

"I am not for war; on the contrary, I abhor an unjust or a wanton war, and I would use every honorable expedient to avoid even a just war. But I feel with all my heart that you don't, in the long run, avoid war by making other people believe that you are afraid to fight for your own rights."

Must Never Wrong Weak.

"Uncle Sam must never wrong the weak, he must never insult anyone or wantonly give cause of offense to either the weak or the strong, and the surest possible way to enable him to keep the peace and to keep it on terms that will enable Americans to hold their heads high, and not hang them in shame, is for him to be so prepared in advance; and I mean prepared in his own soul as well as with his army and navy; that when he says anything he means it and that he can make it good."

"Don't try to nominate me unless you think that is the policy that ought to be followed out, and followed out for your own sake as much as for mine and for the sake of the rest of us here in the United States. And don't forget that that isn't a course that provokes war. It is the only course in the long run prevents war and secures national self-respect and guarantees the honor of its citizens wherever they may be."

It is openly conceded that this exposition of his attitude puts the colonel openly in the contest, and fast and furious fighting is expected now up to the minute that the nomination is made. The statement does not mean that the bars are down and a scramble for Roosevelt delegates will be permitted in the primaries. On the contrary, Colonel Roosevelt is adhering strictly to his Trinidad statement, of which this outline of his position is simply an elaboration.

It can be said that the colonel's desire is that things shall take their course so that the delegates shall be free when they assemble at Chicago to exercise their own judgment as to what is best to be done. If thereupon there is any considerable sentiment for his nomination he wants the delegates to know precisely where he stands, if in their knowledge of his platform they then desire him to run.

Willing to Make Fight.

He is willing to make the fight. In making this statement Colonel Roosevelt is responding to repeated demands made upon him from all sections of the country for light upon his attitude. He believes the country is facing a crisis and thinks there is but one issue to be decided in the coming campaign, namely, the preservation of the national honor through a thorough preparedness which will put the nation in shape to meet any contingency that may arise. If this view is shared by the Chicago delegates and they summon him to lead, he is ready.

But he still insists that the people must be in the "heroic mood" he referred to in the Trinidad statement in order to make his nomination possible.

BENGAIRIN CREW PICKED UP.

London, April 5, 8:30 p. m.—Lloyd's reports that the remainder of the crew of the British bark Bengairin, sunk by a submarine, have been picked up.

BRITISH DEFEAT TURKS ON TIGRIS

Prospect of the Relief of Gen. Townshend's Forces is Now in Sight.

London, April 5, 8:09 p. m.—A victory for the British over the Turks on the Tigris below Kut-el-Amara has been reported by General Lake in command of the British forces there. The Turkish entrenched positions at Emm-el-Henne were attacked and carried at 5 o'clock this morning by the Tigris corps, General Lake telegraphed, and the operations are proceeding satisfactorily.

The capture of Umm-el-Henne, which is on the Tigris, about 20 miles down stream from Kut-el-Amara, is the most important news from this theater in some time and is regarded here as giving promise of the early relief of General Townshend's force, which has been besieged in Kut-el-Amara since the first week in December.

Umm-el-Henne is a strong position at an important bend of the river and is said to be the last serious barrier to the relief of General Townshend, although two or three less strong positions are still to be overcome before Kut-el-Amara is reached.

Next to the Dardanelles expedition, the operations in Mesopotamia have been a subject on which the government has been more criticized than any other, not only on account of the breakdown in the hospital arrangements, but on the question of responsibility for the advance, with insufficient forces, toward Bagdad.

As in the case of the Dardanelles the critics accused the ministers at home of insisting on the expedition against the advice of the military authorities in India and on the spot. This accusation, however, met with an unqualified contradiction by Austen Chamberlain, secretary for India, in the house of commons yesterday. Mr. Chamberlain declared that the advance on Bagdad was undertaken on the advice of the commander-in-chief in Mesopotamia.

For the moment the infantry of both sides is quiet everywhere along the western front in France. On the much-disputed sectors around Verdun the only activity has been an intermittent bombardment in the region of Douaumont and Vaux. This calm follows a successful offensive undertaken by the French, in which they recaptured some of their lost ground and drove the Germans back.

On the eastern line in Russia, the Germans have taken up the offensive and are attacking heavily with infantry and artillery the Russian positions. Unofficial advices from Petrograd say, however, that the Germans nowhere have been able to penetrate the Russian line in frontal attacks.

The Italians and Austrians are continuing their operations along the Austro-Italian front, but no important changes in positions have occurred.

Berlin reports the loss during March of 14 German aeroplanes and of 44 British and French machines. Thirty-eight of the latter were brought to earth in air combats, according to Berlin.

Ambassador Page has forwarded from London to Washington metal found in the steamer Sussex, recently damaged by an explosion, which killed several persons and wounded some Americans. The embassy in London is credited with the belief that the metal came from a German torpedo.

Spain has sent a note to Germany protesting against the torpedoing of the Sussex, in which several Spaniards lost their lives.

A British patrol boat has picked up off the Orkney Islands, Scotland, the Brazilian steamer Sandana de Gama, bound from Para, Brazil, for New York, with a cargo of rubber. As the steamer was several thousand miles off of her course the British are inclined to the belief that she was attempting to run the blockade.

SALTS IF BACKACHE AND KIDNEYS HURT

Stop eating meat for a while if your Bladder is troubling you.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scale and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

GERMANS URGED TO HAVE FAITH

Position at Verdun Not Encouraging But Confidence in Army Must Be Maintained.

Berlin, April 5.—The Vossische Zeitung, referring to the Verdun operations, says:

"For the moment our position may seem discouraging, but there is still entire confidence in the strength of the German army."

"Let us not be pessimistic, so we may not weaken the resistance of our soldiers."

London, April 5.—The strong French counter-offensive northeast of Verdun continued throughout the night, according to official statement issued by the French war office, winning for the French further gains of ground. Determined apparently not to let the Germans remain in possession of the important strip of ground captured in their Sunday drive, the French have, the official statements say, entirely recaptured the Callette wood and are now pushing further north.

The Berlin war office statement today, reporting the fighting of the previous days, says that the French assaults all broke down.

Hold Part of Wood.

The Germans are still in possession of the northern portions of the Callette wood. It further asserts that the French were repulsed southwest of Fort Douaumont and that an attempt to recapture the hill at Hautmont was broken up by the German fire.

This statement deals entirely with the fighting of yesterday, so it is likely that the advances reported during the night by the French were made in later fighting than that reported by the Berlin communication.

Following the deadly struggle before dawn, calm settled down upon the battle front. During the day the infantry of both sides remained in the trenches and the artillery fire diminished considerably from the intensity of previous days.

AMNESTY GRANT BEING HASTENED

Efforts to Arrange for Surrender of General Canuto Reyes and Other Villista Leaders Progressing.

Torreon, Mexico, April 5.—Efforts to arrange the surrender under an amnesty grant of General Canuto Reyes and other Villista leaders of the Torreon district are being hastened. Meanwhile it is reported that a band of Villa supporters have completely alienated the bandit's cause in the neighborhood of Sombrerete by wrecking a passenger train.

This took place last Thursday, a number of people being killed. Sombrerete lies between Durango City and Cuatla on a branch of the Mexican Central railway.

Following General Reyes' offer to make peace with the Carranzistas, on the ground that he was weary of useless bloodshed, General Trevino, military commander here, named a peace commission to confer with the chief. This commission returned today from a meeting with Reyes, reporting that no agreement had been reached. General Trevino immediately ordered it to return to another conference.

General Reyes wishes six weeks in which to notify all his followers. General Trevino will insist, however, that all the Villa leaders must surrender inside a ten day limit and that he will deal with them individually.

Villa's Generals to Surrender. Hilari Rodriguez and a number of less important generals are with Reyes and are expected to come in with him if terms are agreed on.

After several days interruption train service has been resumed between here and Durango. It is believed that the bandits who wrecked the train near Sombrerete were remnants of the reguados Zapatistas. Torreon is quiet.

SOLDIERS ARE WITHOUT SALT

Troops Used Up Supply in Two Days and Have Had None Since—Tobacco Priceless.

Columbus, N. M., April 5.—Salt is the commodity most in demand by American troops at the front, especially the troops of the Seventh cavalry, according to reports made today by the crew of the first troop train arriving in Columbus from the farthest extremity of the American lines. The small supply the cavalrymen carried with them, when they crossed the border three weeks ago, was exhausted in two days and they have had none since. Tobacco is also priceless, one of the truck men asserting that a trooper offered him $1.50 for one half of a five cent bag of tobacco. "I told him it was worth that much to him. It was worth that much to me, and I kept it," the truckman said.

Several of the men commented upon the optimism with which Mexican inhabitants of that portion of Chihuahua through which American troops are passing, have started tilling the soil for the first crops they have planted since the five years' revolution rot well under way late in 1910.

Peons Grow Friendly.

The change in attitude of the peons who have come into contact with the silver spending "Americans" is remarkable. Members of the crew said. The first timidity and fear has given way, with lack of molestation and plundering by the Chihualist soldier to an increasing friendly manner.

The trucks which rumbled into camp throughout the night have been "farther south" at the end of the long 300-mile line of communications, carrying

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. food for men and horses, and supplying the mule packs which are winding out from sub-bases over the intricate mountain country for fighting detachments in the first column, pursuing Villa.

Truckmen Suffer Hardships.

Up from beyond Namiquipa having left there two days after the fighting at Guerrero in which Col. Dodd's men drove off 500 Villistas, the drivers of these trucks told of unprecedented hardships along the rutted, sandy roads on which they were stuck in holes for hours at a time, the wheels of their big machines grinding in the loose alkali sand without gripping a foothold. Sand storms swept down upon them, whipping into their faces like lashes. Head winds fought them, in instances driving down so vigorously that the great gray three-team cars were halted, powerless to buck the gusts. But through all this, all the American cars made their way safely back to the expeditionary base, here.

REWARD OFFERED FOR U. P. BANDIT

Cheyenne, Wyo., April 5.—Authorities tonight were without tangible clues as to identity of the lone bandit who last night robbed several passengers on Union Pacific passenger train No. 1, westbound, a few minutes after it pulled out of the station here. Fifteen suspects were arrested during the day, but all except one, Joe Daley, were released. Daley is held pending satisfactory explanation of his presence at Corlett Junction, near here, when the robbery was committed. The authorities expressed the belief that he might have information concerning the robber's identity.

A total of $5,500 in rewards has been offered for capture of the robber. Of this, the Union Pacific headquarters in Omaha offered $5,000. Late today the state of Wyoming added $500 to the reward.

INDIANA G. O. P. READY TO MAKE NOMINATIONS

Indianapolis, Ind., April 5.—All the preliminaries of the two day Republican state convention were cleared away today and tonight and everything is in readiness for the nominations and the adoption of a platform, when the convention reconvenes for the closing session tomorrow. Candidates for United States senator and for all state offices will be nominated and four delegates-at-large to the national convention will be chosen. The nomination of James P. Goodrich, who was chosen for governor at the recent primary, also will be ratified by the convention.
